FRANCIS R. HUGHES TO MY PATRONS AND FRIENDS:

We are all helping the suffering and wants of the unfortunate, donating to different charities, and sending our money to the hungry and other countries than our own. Why can we not give work to the honest and worthy men that are willing and need the work so badly? Having purchased about 10,000 rolls of wall paper at a very low figure, paper that retails from 10 cents to $1.50 per piece off the wall, I will give this paper absolutely free, only charging the cost of hanging or placing it on the wall, scraping and pointing

Phone North 2363.

I am also in position to offer extremely low prices on all grades of up-holsteries, such as Velours, Tapestries, Damasks, Velvets, Etc., and will be pleased to do your work, such as Reupholstering, Repairing, Recaning, Etc., at a very low figure.

I am also in position to do General House Painting, interior or exterior, far below the general price. By doing your work now it will aid the workman and avoid the rush in the busy season. I will be pleased to call and estimate on any and all kinds of work. ARTHUR J. HOUGHTON.

Double Murder and Man Hunt Sequel to Argument.

Lawrence, Mass. April 10.—An argument over cards led to the slaying of two men and brought about a man hunt today for the man accument Tree.

A large landscape by Winfield Scott Clime is rich in soft, restful coloring, while his "Winter Mornings" gives a rare effect of sunlight upon heavily banked snow on either side of an ice-bound brook. Edgar Nye shows four landscapes, the most prominent, being enlandscapes, the most prominent being en-titled "March," which is rich in brown and gray effects skillfully handled. Carl Weller has several small landscapes, all low tones, but full of feeling. A favorite picture with all visitors as well

Among the other exhibitors are: Grace Raymind, Anna Kelly, Lewis Clephane Alice Sawtelle, Carl Rakeman, Josefine Gloetzner, Bert H. Noyes, Ruel Tolman, Elizabeth Mulhoeffer, Sarah Munroe, eth Mulhoeffer, Sarah Munroe Niepold, and John U. Perkins.
